Know Your Rights: Taking An Active Role In Your Health Care

What is your role in your health care?

You should be active in your health care because your choices affect your care and treatment. You should ask questions and pay attention to instructions given to you by caregivers.

You should share as much as possible about your health with your caregivers. For example, give them a list of your medicines, vitamins, herbs and supplements and remind them about your allergies.

What is an advocate?

An advocate is a personal representative (family member or friend) to be with you and provide support during your care.

Your advocate can ask question when you cannot, remind you about instructions and help you make decisions. Your advocate can ask for help if you are not getting the care you need.

Ask about your state's laws regarding advocates and if there is a form to fill out to name your advocate.

Can your advocate make decisions for you?

Yes, if they are also your legal guardian or if you signed a legal document giving them the power to make decisions for you. This document may be called a health care power of attorney.

Can other people find out about your disease or condition?

Health care providers must keep some details about your health private. You can sign a form if you want health care providers to share information with others.

What is informed consent?

Informed consent means that you understand your treatment choices and their risks. Your caregivers should help you understand the treatment choices, risks and what will happen if you are not treated. Informed consent is required if you are asked to try any experimental treatment.

Can the organization take pictures or videos of you?

Yes, they can take pictures, videos or other images and recordings to be used for your care or treatment, or to identify you. The staff must ask your permission to use the images or recordings for any other purpose.

What happens if something goes wrong during treatment or with my care?

You have the right to an honest explanation and an apology. These should be made in a reasonable amount of time.

How do you file a complaint?

Contact the state agency that licenses or certifies the health care facility.

Call the health care facility or health system so they can correct the problem.

Contact the Joint Commission with complaints about an accredited organization.

Fire Escape Planning

More Than 4,000 Americans Die Each Year In Fires And 20,000 Are Injured

Deaths resulting from failed emergency escapes are particularly avoidable. The U. S. Fire Administration (USFA), a part of the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, believes having a sound escape plan will greatly reduce fire deaths and protect you and your family's safety if a fire occurs.

Have a Sound Fire Escape Plan In the event of a fire, remember, TIME is the biggest enemy and every second counts! Escape plans help you get out of your home quickly. In less than 30 seconds a small flame can get completely out of control and turn into a major fire. It only takes minutes for a house to fill with thick black smoke and become engulfed in flames. Fire can quickly spread to neighboring residences and buildings, putting others at risk.

Practice Escaping From Every Room In The Home

Practice escape plans every month. The best plans have two ways to get out of each room. If the primary way is blocked by fire or smoke, you will need a second way out. A secondary route might be a window onto an adjacent roof or a collapsible ladder - evaluated by a nationally recognized laboratory such as Underwriters Laboratories (UL) - for escape from upper story windows. Make sure windows are not stuck, screens can be taken out quickly and security bars can be properly opened. Also, practice feeling your way out of the house in the dark or with your eyes closed.

Security Bars Require Special Precautions

Security bars may help to keep your family safe from intruders, but they can also trap you in a deadly fire! Windows and doors with security bars must have quick release devices to allow them to be opened immediately in an emergency. Make sure everyone in the family understands and practices how to properly operate and open locked or barred doors and windows.

Immediately Leave The Home

When a fire occurs, do not waste any time saving property. Take the safest exit route, but if you must escape through smoke, remember to crawl low, under the smoke and keep your mouth covered. The smoke contains toxic gases which can disorient you or, at worst, overcome you.

Never Open Doors That Are Hot To The Touch

When you come to a closed door, use the back of your hand to feel the top of the door, the doorknob, and the crack between the door and door frame to make sure that fire is not on the other side. If it feels hot, use your secondary escape route. Even if the door feels cool, open it carefully. Brace your shoulder against the door and open it slowly. If heat and smoke come in, slam the door and make sure it is securely closed, then use your alternate escape route.

Designate A Meeting Place Outside And Take Attendance

Designate a meeting location away from the home, but not necessarily across the street. For example, meet under a specific tree or at the end of the driveway or front sidewalk to make sure everyone has gotten out safely and no one will be hurt looking for someone who is already safe. Designate one person to go to a neighbor's home to phone the fire department.

Once Out, Stay Out

Remember to escape first, then notify the fire department using the 911 system or proper local emergency number in your area. Never go back into a burning building for any reason. Teach children not to hide from firefighters. If someone is missing, tell the firefighters. They are equipped to perform rescues safely.

Finally, having working smoke alarms installed on every level of your home dramatically increases your chances of survival. Smoke alarm batteries need to be tested every month and changed with new ones at least once a year.

Example:

USE THE SPACE BELOW TO CREATE YOUR FIRE ESCAPE PLAN

1. Draw a map of your home and include all windows and doors.
2. Mark two ways out of every room.
3. Mark all smoke alarms.
4. Designate a meeting place outside of the home.

Remember to practice your plan at least twice a year.

Advanced Directives

We recognize your right to participate in the formulation of decisions that may affect your care. This includes respecting and conforming to decisions you have made regarding the level of care you desire when confronted with a health or life-threatening situation. These decisions made by you in a legally appropriate manner, defined by the state in which you reside, referred to as ADVANCE DIRECTIVES.

Advance Directives (such as a Living Will, Durable Power of Attorney or Do Not Resuscitate order) give direction to your family and care providers regarding your wish to withhold extraordinary measures to revive you if a cardiac or respiratory emergency occurs.

If you have an Advance Directive, provide us a written copy of your directions. Unless directed otherwise by an Advance Directive, any staff member who encounters an unresponsive patient will call "911" to activate the emergency medical system. Employees of our company may not participate in the withdrawal of life support equipment. If you wish to execute an Advance Directive, inform your physician, attorney, caregiver and support system.

Inform us if your Advance Directive changes so we can update our records. Your decision regarding whether to execute an Advance Directive will never be a condition of providing care or a basis for discrimination for or against you as a patient.

Emergency Preparedness

In case of an emergency:

- Dial 9-1-1
- Stay calm and speak clearly.
- Listen carefully and verbally respond to the dispatchers questions.
- State your emergency.
- State your address
- STAY ON THE LINE, do not hang up until the dispatcher tell you it is OK to do so.
- If you can, stay by the phone in case the dispatcher needs to call you back.

Preparing For An Emergency

- Refill medications promptly to ensure you have an adequate supply on-hand.
- Have an emergency back-up source/supply for any medical equipment requiring electricity.
- Keep a list of emergency phone numbers, including your medical equipment supplier.
- Have a family member or neighbor check on you if an emergency occurs.
- Arrange for a friend or relative in another town to be a contact for the extended family.
- Listen to daily weather forecasts and be aware of changing conditions.
- Determine an evacuation route and alternatives.
- Have a flashlight and extra batteries nearby for power outages.
- Keep extra blankets in case the power goes out.
- Keep supply of bottled water on-hand.

Preventing Falls At Home

Make Your Home Safer

1. Remove things you can trip over from stairs and places where you walk.
2. Remove small throw rugs or use double-sided tape to keep them from slipping.
3. Keep items used often in cabinets you can reach easily without using a step stool.
4. Have grab bars installed next to your toilet and in the tub or shower.
5. Use non-slip mats in the bathtub and on shower floors.
6. Improve the lighting in your home. As you get older, you need brighter lights to see well. Lamp shades or frosted bulbs can reduce glare.
7. Handrails and Lights Installed On All Staircases.
8. Wear shoes that give good support and have thin non-slip soles. Avoid wearing slippers and athletic shoes with deep treads.

Review Medications

1. Have your doctor or pharmacist review all medicines you take (including non-prescription items such as cold medicines). As you get older, the way some medicines work in your body can change.

2. Some medicine (or combination of medicines) can make you drowsy or light-headed and can lead to a fall.

Begin Regular Exercise Program

1. Exercise is one of the most important ways to reduce your chances of falling. It makes you stronger and helps you feel better.

Exercises that improve balance and coordination are the most helpful.

2. Lack of exercise leads to weakness and increases your chances of falling.
3. Ask your doctor or health care worker about the best type of exercise program for you.

Have Your Vision Checked

1. Have your eyes checked by an eye doctor. You may be wearing the wrong glasses or have a condition limiting your vision.

2. Poor vision can increase your chances of falling.

Infection Control & Prevention

It's In Your Hands

Contact with infected body fluids such as blood, urine, feces, mucous or the droplets sprayed into the air when a person coughs or sneezes can spread illnesses from one person to another.

Some infections are spread through items that have been contaminated by drainage from infected sores or discharges from the nose, mouth, eyes or genital/rectal area.

Controlling the spread of infections means interrupting the way illness travels from one person to another.

Maintain a clean environment to keep infections under control.

Washing your hands prevents the spread of colds, influenza, strep and other illnesses.

1. Wet your hands with warm water.
2. Add soap and rub your hands to make a soapy lather.

3. Wash the front and back of your hands, between your fingers and under your nails.

4. Count to 20 or sing "Happy Birthday" to yourself (it takes about 20 seconds).
5. Rinse hands well.
6. Dry hands with a clean paper towel.
7. Turn-off faucet with paper towel.
8. When hand washing is not possible use an alcohol based hand gel (60% or greater).

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

As a health care provider, we may use and disclose medical information in the following ways.

For Treatment

We may use medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to those involved in taking care of you, such as your physician, home health agency, and respiratory therapist. For example, we may share your phone number for medication refills, your home address for billing and collection purposes, and so on. We also may disclose medical information about you to people who may be involved in your medical care after you have received our products and services, such as family members, clergy, or others we use to provide services that are part of your care.

For Payment

We may use and disclose medical information about you so that we can bill and collect payment from you, an insurance company, or a third party for the treatment and services we provide you. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about products and services we provided to you so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the products and services. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

For Health Care Operations

We may use and disclose medical information about you for our health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run our company and make sure all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use medical information to review our treatment and services or evaluate the performance of our staff caring for you.

We may also combine medical information about many patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information for review and learning purposes. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are.

Delivery Reminders

We may use and disclose medical information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for treatment or services.

Treatment Alternatives

We may use and disclose medical information to inform you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Health-Related Benefits and Services

We may use and disclose medical information to inform you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care

We may release medical information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care or payment for such care. We may also notify your family member, personal representative, or another person responsible for your medical care regarding your location, general condition, or death. In addition, we may disclose medical information about you to any entity assisting in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status, and location.

Research

Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for research purposes. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their medical information. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process. We will almost always ask for your specific authorization if the researcher will have access to your name, address, or other information that reveals who you are, or if the researcher will be involved in your care.

As Required by Law

We will disclose medical information about you when required to do so by federal, state, or local law.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety

We may use and disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

- If you agree to such disclosure or when otherwise required or authorized by law, to report suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence to the appropriate government authority.

Health Oversight Activities

We may disclose medical information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

Judicial and Administrative Proceedings

If you are involved in a lawsuit or dispute, we may disclose medical information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose medical information about you in response to a subpoena or discovery request by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts were made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

Law Enforcement

We may release medical information if asked to do so by a law enforcement official:

- In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons, or similar process;
- To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;
- About the victim of a crime under certain circumstances;
- About a death we believe may be the result of criminal conduct;

- For the safety and security of the correctional institution.

Organ and Tissue Donation

If you are an organ donor, we may release medical information to organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye, or tissue transplantation or to an organ donation bank, as necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation and transplantation.

Sale of Business Assets

We reserve the right to transfer medical information about you to a third party in conjunction with the sale of our company or certain assets belonging to our company.

OTHER USES OF MEDICAL INFORMATION AND YOUR CHOICES

Other uses and disclosures of medical information not covered by this notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written authorization, and you can tell us your choices about what we share for certain health information. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us.

what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

Most uses and disclosures of psychotherapy notes, uses and disclosures for marketing, and disclosures that would be a sale of medical information require your written authorization. You also have both the right and choice to tell us to share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care; share information in a disaster relief situation; and include your information in a hospital directory. If you are not able to tell us your preference—for example, if you are unconscious—we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety. We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.

If you provide us authorization to use or disclose medical information about you, you may revoke that authorization, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose medical information about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to take back any disclosures we have already made with your authorization, and that we are required to retain our records of the care that we provided to you.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE

We reserve the right to change this notice at any time. We reserve the right to make the revised or changed notice effective for medical information we already have about you as well as any information we receive in the future. We will post a copy of the current notice in each Rotech location and on Rotech's website at www.rotech.com. The notice will contain the effective date on the first page.

Terms of Agreement

Provision of Physician Prescribed Equipment/Services:

By signing the Acknowledgment and Authorization and/or Delivery Ticket, you authorize the Company to provide, at your physician's direction, the equipment, supplies and/or services indicated. You agree the Company and its affiliates, agents or assigns shall not be liable for any acts or omissions related to equipment, supplies and/or services provided in accordance with your physician's directions.

Authorization and Assignment of Benefits:

You request payment of authorized healthcare benefits be made on your behalf directly to the Company or, if applicable, its parent Company Rotech Healthcare Inc. (Rotech), for all of the equipment, supplies and/or services furnished to you. You authorize and assign directly to the Company or Rotech all payments and benefits otherwise payable or available to you, or to which you are otherwise entitled, under or pursuant to the terms of any government (e.g. Medicare, Medicaid, Medigap, VA, TRICARE), private, employer, group or other health insurance program or plan. You authorize photocopies of this agreement to be considered as valid as the original.

Financial Responsibilities:

You are obligated to personally pay, in full, the difference between the amounts you your government benefit or insurance coverage pays and what the Company can lawfully charge for the equipment, supplies and/or services furnished to you. In the event the Company notifies you that the claim for payment on your behalf was refused by a third-party payer for any reason other than the Company's failure to comply with any applicable law, regulation or insurance contract (including, but not limited to, your failure to qualify for the equipment, supplies, or service, lack of coverage by your insurance payer, or your failure to provide complete and accurate information needed to bill the payer), then you will submit full payment for the equipment, supplies or services to the Company upon receipt of a statement billing you for the same. A late fee up to $10.00 per month may be charged when payment is not received by the due date.

Medicare and Medicaid Beneficiaries/Deductibles and Co-payments:

If the Company is entitled to reimbursement for the equipment, supplies and/or services under the Medicare or Medicaid program, you acknowledge and agree that you are responsible for all deductibles and coinsurance amounts required by those programs. You further agree that you are obligated to make your deductible and/or coinsurance payment to the Company. The obligation will be deemed in default should you fail to remit payment.

Private Health Insurance Deductibles and Co-payments:

Deductibles and coinsurance payments under private third-party contracts generally will be due at or before furnishing of the equipment, supplies or services. In the event Company does not collect these payments up front, you agree that you will be obligated to make all such deductible or coinsurance payments upon receipt of a statement billing you for the same. The obligation will be deemed in default should you fail to remit payment.

Other Responsibilities when Renting or Buying Medical Equipment:

- a. All equipment rented under this agreement shall remain the Company's property. You will return rented equipment in the same condition it was in when you received it, subject to normal wear and tear. You understand that title to any equipment sold to you, if allowed by your insurance, does not pass until the Company has received payment in full.
- b. You will promptly notify the Company if your insurance changes. Failure to notify us may result in a $20.00 insurance change processing fee.

- c. You will promptly notify the Company if your address changes or if you no longer need your rental equipment.
- d. You will also promptly notify the Company if you are admitted to a nursing home, hospital, or hospice facility.
- e. You agree to notify the Company immediately of any equipment malfunction or defect. The Company is not responsible for any damages or injuries which might have been prevented had you promptly notified the Company of a malfunction or defect.

Disclaimer of Warranties/Limitation of Liabilities:

Except as stated in the Patient Information Booklet, the Company makes no express or implied representations or warranties concerning the equipment or services provided and disclaims, without limitation, any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, to the extent allowed by applicable law.
